

World Resources Forum 2023 CALL FOR VOLUNTEERS

Are you passionate about sustainability and eager to gain first-hand experience in the organisation of a leading international event? We are seeking enthusiastic volunteers to be part of the renowned World Resources Forum 2023 Conference held from 4-6 September 2023 at the International Conference Centre Geneva (CICG), in Geneva, Switzerland. As a volunteer, you can contribute to a successful conference, while accessing first-class content and a network of sustainability professionals from around the globe. We warmly invite you to apply in case you will be available from 4-6 of September.

Your Role

As a volunteer member of our team, you will play an integral role in ensuring the smooth and successful operation of the conference. Your tasks may include:

- Assisting with registrations and welcoming attendees
- Guiding participants and speakers to the designated venues
- Supporting session organisers and presenters during panel discussions and workshops
- Providing information and assistance to conference participants
- Assisting with logistics and on-site coordination
- Supporting social media and communication activities

Your Benefits

You will have the opportunity to:

- Gain first-hand experience in a prestigious international conference
- Interact and network with global leaders in sustainability, industry professionals, and researchers
- Access valuable insights and knowledge from renowned experts in the field
- Enhance your skills in event management, communication, and teamwork
- Receive a certificate of appreciation for your contribution
- Gain access to the full 3-days of conference, including meals and 2 networking Apéro Riche

How to Apply

Send an email to wrf2023@wrforum.org with the subject "Volunteer WRF23", including your cv and brief statement outlining your motivation. Application deadline is August 18, 2023. We will review applications and notify selected volunteers by August 23, 2023.

About the World Resources Forum 2023

The World Resources Forum is a leading multi-stakeholder conference that offers a platform for policy-makers, businesses, researchers and civil society leaders to discuss challenges and solutions for a sustainable and fair use of natural resources. Under the theme of 'Rethinking Value – Resources for Planetary Wellbeing', WRF'23 will dive into three main conference tracks: Value Chains, Sufficiency and Digitalisation. The conference is hosted by the Swiss Federal Office for the Environment and organised in collaboration with the United Nations Environment Programme. Main partners include the International Telecommunication Union, the Swiss Federal Laboratories for Materials Science and Technology (Empa) and the International Resource Panel. Conference website: wrf2023.org
